MINK SKINS BRING $75, JUMP OF 350 P. C.

$3,500,000 Paid for Furs at St. Louis Sale.

Special Despatch to the Sun and New York Herald.

St. Louis, Feb. 3.—The price of mink akins soured on the International Fur Exchange this afternoon, bringing as high as $75, which is 350 per cent, higher than ever before obtained, it is said. Many bids ranged between $50 and $75. The skine were offered in lots of 500, and the 600 buyers present realized there were not enough to go around. Total sales of mink were 105 000 clother. 105,000 skins.

Eleven thousand marten sold from $40 to $100, the record price being $850 for one skin. Forty-seven stone mar-ten sold from $20 to $40. Four hundred baum marten sold from $20 to $50. Two hundred and fifteen thousand marmots sold from $2 to $5.

The total sales for today were estimated at $3,500,000.

The above item is reproduced as a reminder to our customers and as will be noted, furs are fast becoming scarce and is just what has been taking place all season-advance after advance.

Having secured our furs long before the enormous rise in prices we are in a position to offer most extraordinary values in Scarfs and Muffs, in all the fashionable furs, our prices being based on the cost to us.

RALLY IN STOCK MARKET. New York, Feb. 6.—Business on the stack exchange today with a furnover of approximately 1,500,000 shares, was characterized by a succession of the most amazing movements in the recent most amazing movements in the recent history of the institution.

Beginning half an hour later than usual because of the tieup of local and suburban traffic caused by the sform, the market opened at gains of 1 to 7 points for many of the better known issues, he rally being based largely on further improvement shown by foreign exchange.

Much of the early rise resulted from short covering and as zoon as that movement had run its course, leaders promptly for sted. By midday, when call money ruled at 17 per cent, pressure of a professional character was resumed, all early gains being replaced by extreme losses of 5 to 17 points in speculative issues and to to 5 among the more stable shares.

When it became evil in the final hour that the usual Frillay demand for call money over the week end would not materally a learnfully be recited.

hour that the usual Friday demand for call money over the week end would not materallize, loans fell by rapid stages to 10 per cent, and the entire list shot briskly upward.

Stocks that featured the acute depression of the mid-session, such as General Motors, Crucible Steel, equipments, olls, American Woolen and shippings rallied with such celerity as to indicate that the recovery derived much of its impetus from the shorts. Ralls, which suffered less than industrials, displayed little resiliency, however, and failed to keep pace with the final rally. General Motors reduced its gross decline of 17 points to a net of 7 points, with actual gains for some of the prominent steels and equipments.

Bonds were heavy as stocks were falling, but retrieved much of their loss when buying of Liberty and Victory issues restored recent losses. Other domestic issues were irregular with internationals. Sales (par value) were $12.615,000.

Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

*It may be determined to issue presently $200,000 par value, or a lesser amount, of Class A and, or Class B Common Stock. We summarize from a letter written by Mr. Tracy S. Lewis, President of the Company, and from the report of Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery:

Business: Connecticut Mills Co. is one of the largest manufacturers in the United States of square and cord fabric for automobile tires which it sells to the leading tire companies in the United States. It owns a modern weaving mill at Danielson, Conn., and a large yarn mill at Fall River, Mass., and operates under lease another yarn mill at East Taunton, Mass. The demand for the Company's product has always exceeded its capacity to manufacture.

Management: The management which started and still controls this business is headed by men of long experience in the textile industry. No change is contemplated in the operating organization or executive administration of the Com-

Earnings: Net earnings after provision for depreciation and Federal Taxes for the three years and nine months ended October 11, 1919, averaged $409,000 per annum. For the calendar year 1920, net earnings after Federal Taxes are estimated at not less than $1,000,000, or 6 2-3 times the amount required for annual dividends and sinking fund on the First Preferred Stock.

Assets: Net tangible assets on completion of this financing will be approximately $3,900,000, of which $1,800,000 will be net quick assets. These amounts are equivalent to $262 and $120 respectively per share of First Preferred Stock authorized.

Sinking Fund: A sinking fund of 20 per cent. of surplus net earnings after payment of dividends on the First Preferred Stock (but not exceeding 3 per cent of the outstanding First Preferred Stock) shall be set aside annually to purchase or call the First Preferred Stock at not to exceed $115 per share.

Legal proceedings in connection with the issuance of this Preferred Stock will be approved by Daniel Burkes, Esq., of New York, for the Company, Messrs. McAdos, Cotton & Franklin, of New York, and Messrs. Ropes, Gray, Boyden & Perkins, of Boston, for the Bankers. We offer this Preferred Stock when, as and if issued Price 981/2 and accrued dividend from February 1
